NYMO CODE OF CONDUCT

Behaviour Policy for events

At NYMO, we expect that all persons attending our events uphold the values of our faith. Therefore, we ask all attendees (and parents/guardian if the participant is under 18) to read and agree to the following code of conduct.

1. We treat all human beings with the dignity deserved by being a child of God. This will be obvious by our language, behaviour, physical interactions and written words.

2. We look after ourselves and other. This is shown by not bringing any illegal substances, alcohol, cigarettes or weapons of any kind.

3. We respect other people's property. This will be obvious through our care for buildings, furniture and belongings.

4. We respect the opinions of others. This will be obvious through our interactions and conversations. We will listen and reflect to the thoughts of others.

5. We respect the hard work that goes into planning events. This will be obvious by our commitment to timely payment, attendance and punctuality. We acknowledge that the community is made up of lots of peoples and our actions can have an adverse effect on the larger group.

6. We love technology and respect its power. Therefore, we use it at the appropriate time in a respectful way. We seek the permission of all persons before using their image in any way for any reason.

7. We are patient. This will be obvious by our care for those who are different to us. We encourage and include all persons regardless of age, gender, race or abilities.

8. We are considerate to leadership. This will be obvious through our willingness to follow instruction. To communicate any disagreement in a productive manner.
